CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO BET-

New York, April 1.—The weekly bank statement today confounded all previous estimates as to its character. Notwithstanding the week's enormous demands for credits, the bark of the standard of the second of t for credits, the banks report a contraction in loans of upwards of $10,000,000. The only explanation can be that the credits S outstanding in the stock market by the banks have been withdrawn to the extent of meeting requirements in other directions and that loans have been made through trust companies and through other sources. There is no room to doubt that the volume of credits as a whole has been substantially expanded during the week. The indicated loss of cash of $4.000,000 is reduced in the showing of the bank statement to about $800,000. The net result is an improvement in the margin of the surplus to the extent of $2.1 The appearance of the statement had an encuoraging effect on the demand for stocks, but the day's notable movements were confined to the list of specialties. This is in accordance with the professed expectation of the trading element that the movement to be looked for is to be in this class of stocks.

The day's operations were almost wholly in professional hands, but were indicative of a confident feeling that next week will see a revival of speculative demand and a quick relaxation in the money market. Banking opinion on this point was by no means agreed in spite of the nominal strength of the bank statement. The shifting of loans to the trust companies and to toreign bankers, while it affords a relief to the resources of the banks themselves, nertheless makes a real inroad on the available supply of credit. Additions are constantly made to the list of new bond issues, which will add to the requirements of the money market and to the requirements of the money market and the resources of the banks themselves, nertheless (on Gas. 2,000 2 Cool. rices of stocks have given ground week, but in an irregular and re-dined manner, the decline being in-upted by recurrent rallies. This was eved to be due to the frequent cov-g of short contracts by the bear ters, who thus testified their lack of fidence in their nosition. There was aders, who thus testified their lack of onfidence in their position. There was so evidence of support by buying orars at times when the tone became considences were the tone became considences when the tone became considences when the testiation has considered the principally to the money osition which has prompted conservation in making extensive commitments a credits subject to immediate calls. It believed that the limitations of the loney supply are due to temporary auses. The attitude of the trading has cen in a degree a waiting one, until the truation is cleared up. Aggressive ope-

so the making extensive commitments of the control of an advance have been discordinated them and the developments of the week have offered nothing to suggest on the source restricted, means for free operations in stocks have been lacking, and the rate of activity in securities has denoted that the surplus receives had been protected by a reduction of a citivity in securities has denoted the other requirements and to preserve the legal received. Last week's bank tatement showed that the surplus received had been protected by a reduction of the denosit hisblities by contracting unstanding loans. The demands to be not during the week caused a strong contiction from the outset that loans would known and the operation of the stock market to meet other requirements and to preserve the legal r

Fear of a Flurry.

The hay during the week there was a that a flurry would occur in the mey market before the day was over. The ter part of each day on the stock example marked the sense of relief at the naquility of the money market. The baseription to the $75.00,000 installment the Japanese loan was the principal ent in the money market. The large baseription offered for account of doestic institutions was the occasion of mittances from the interfor to New with which carried their own protection the money market. Subscriptions were ported here also for European account, in it is believed that remittances in reparation for these had to do with the cent weakness of exchange, which cared the rate near to the gold import int. Exchange has recovered this week at Paris has renewed its demand on ondon for gold. Reports of the condition of national banks as of March H course of receipt by the controller sclose a large increase in denosits and leans and discounts over those of a zer ago and of three months ago. But the proportion of reserve to liabilities is inversally lower throughout the courty.

universally lower throughout the country.

The high level of trade activity and the unprecedented volume of bank clearings promise no abatement in the seasonable demands of the interior for money. In soite of the apparently invincible ease of the New York money market up to this time the consideration of this prospect eniolis a degree of caution in the extension of credits. A report gained currency that the St. Paul road was planning a $100,000,000 extension to the Pacific to maintain its strategic position against the Northern Securities group, and this suggestion, although officially denied, proved disturbing to the large hopes of development in that group on which a great speculation has been based. Railroad net earnings for February make a poor comparison with last year, but the later growth of traffic shown by gross earnings reports throws the earlier showing out of consideration. Peace prospects have been a varying influence during the week. ing the week.

The bond market is quiet and the price level is relatively lower than that of stocks to a degree that occasions much comment.

extent of the liquidation which began a month ago and has been continuous. That the contraction was much larger last the contraction was much larger last week than is shown by the above seems probable from the fact that money which was deposited with the banks during the week, preparatory to the distribution of April divicence and interest, and also the 5 per cent which was paid by applicants for the Japanese bonds, must have been loaned upon the market.

Chicago, April 1.-Increased shipments

Oats show ¼ gain. Provisions practically unchanged.

Under general selling pressure, the wheat market was weak throughout the entire session. At the opening sentiment was affected by a considerable decline at Liverpool, resulting from increased shipments from Australia. Initial quotations on July were ¼6% lower, at 880 88. Pit traders sold July and the offerings were taken by commission houses. After a dip to 87% 687%, July rallied to 88¼ on covering by shorts. The firmness, however, was only momentary. A local crop expert report which exercised a little bearish effect yesterday seemed to have acquired greater significance over night and appears today as an effectual barrier in the way of a bull movement. The weather throughout the country was again extremely favorable for the rapid advancement of the new crop. Reports of bright prospects for an early and abundant harvest formed the underlying basis of a decidedly weak situation that developed as trading progressed. Prices here were also affected by weakness of northwestern markets. After July had dropped to 87½ some recovery took place in a fair demand from shorts. The closing, however, was weak, with July at 87%. May sold between 1.12¾61.13¾ and closed 1.13½. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 69,800 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat and flour were equal to 312,700 bushels, against 643,000 bushels a year ago.

Weakness of wheat had a bearish effect on the corn market, but large clearances nearly offset this. May opened at 47¼ to 47% sold between 47%647¼ and 45% and closed at 47. Local receipts, 21 cars.
